$20,000 a Year Not Enough for Him.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor.

John Jacob Astor, Jr.

Little John Jacob Astor, posthumous son of John Jacob Astor, who went down on the Titanic leaving a fortune of about $70,000,000, most of which went to his son Vincent, by his first wife, cannot live on $20,000 a year, according to his mother, the second Mrs. Astor.

She has just filed a statement in the Surrogate's court, New York, in which the statement is made that that sum, which he now enjoys, is not sufficient.

After giving the date of her appointment as Nov. 13, 1912, the widow says she received no money from the son's estate until Dec. 31, 1913, and that the setting of his allowance at $20,000 a year took place on Aug. 5, 1914.

"The necessary expenditures since the birth of the infant to Dec. 31, 1914," she reports, "for professional services rendered the said infant by physicians and lawyers, and for my bond as general guardian, all paid by me, have been upward of $8,000."

"From an examination of the accounts of various merchants and others with whom I have dealt, I find that there has been expended for clothing, supplies, toys, etc., for the use of said infant since the date of his birth to Dec. 31, 1914, and paid by me a sum upward of $5,000.

"I have not charged the infant with any portion of the rent paid by me for my summer home at Bar Harbor, Me., or of the cost of various trips on which he has accompanied me; or of the cost of the upkeep of automobiles maintained by me, from all of which he has received substantial benefit, and with a reasonable portion of which expense, as I am advised by my counsel, Hon. Henry A. Gildersleeve, the said infant might properly be charged."

"From this it would seem that the expenditures I have incurred for the benefit of my said infant are far in excess of the moneys received by me."
